

7.2 Skills training

Fit for purpose training in research, generic and discipline-specific skills is provided for research students to equip them to advance their research projects and for future employment including:

- specific sessions and sources of information for research students on plagiarism, citation standards and other related areas
- courses and activities to suit the discipline area(s) of the research project and those which relate more directly to the graduate attributes are available with appropriate frequency to facilitate take-up at relevant stages
- clear information on training opportunities is available to students and supervisors
- robust quality assurance measures in respect of training provided
- formal arrangements for cooperation among institutions/providers to share and/or facilitate access to training resources