

5.4 Dealing with competing responsibilities

Part-time or mature apprentices may have more family commitments than full-time students. Their employments may require them to move temporarily around the country. These potential disruptions should be allowed for and support provided where possible.